

End of the project

After two years and a half of very fruitful collaboration, Be creative! partners are happy to inform you that the project outcomes are available in English, Estonian, French, Greek, Norwegian, Spanish and Turkish.

More than one hundred twenty adults and education professionals (trainers/counsellors/teachers) have taken part in the elaboration of the following tools to get the most of Art & Culture to enhance soft skills while performing.

Be creative! training kit: a training programme and a set of practical resources, including teaching methods, approaches and materials, to equip professionals in their teaching activities in formal, non-formal and informal settings.

Be creative! trainers' handbook: a set of basic concepts, definitions and innovative methodological approaches to use Art & Culture in classrooms and in non-formal and informal learning environments.

Be creative! trainees' pathways: a guide designed and adapted to trainees' needs with possibility to show off their experience as well as competence & professional development, taking the format of a practical ready-to-use online portfolio.

Be creative! e-learning hub: e-platform addressed to both trainees and trainers to raise awareness and develop knowledge on different elements related with use of cultural activities in the training processes, throughout interactive learning elements.

All deliverables are available freely and openly in <https://becreativeproject.eu/results/>.
